goodly portion of New York town was nutomobilized last night and moved itself to Madison Square Garden to see the insentient motor beings with wheels at the nether end of their bodies. There were about 5,000 persons present and the size of the crowd that has attended thus far makes it assured that the third Automobile Show is a success. The social character of the crowd proclaims that social character of the crowd process that the motor car is the thing. As there is noth-ing freakish in the show, just so there is nothing frivolous about those who go to see the new mode of locomotion among these who visit the show is evident not alone from the fact that the exhibitors are pleased, but also from the remarks made by the visitors and the questions they ask. They are most of them keen on the matter of price. Women re overheard saying to their escorts: "Here ing to explain where the difference in the engine and other things makes the difference. The men hunt for what they want alone couples, and there is an immense lot of tudying and shopping being done.

The crowd in the afternoon was about half as big as it was in the evening, and also of substantial character.

The visitors during the afternoon included

Thomas A. Edison, Jefferson Seligman, Hiram Percy Maxim, Park Commissioner W. R. Willcox, the Hon. John E. Eustis, Judge J. E. Newburger, Recorder Goff, Jacob A. Cantor, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Henry R. Worthington, Sidney Dillon Ripley, John H. Flagler, J. F. Plummer, A. R. Shattuck, Henry Osgood, Gen. George Moore Smith and W. Gould

In the evening the brilliancy of the show was heightened by the lighting of the lamps on the electric carriages and the tooting on the electric carriages and the tooling of the horns at intervals added spice to the still parade. An incident of the early even-ing was the explosion of an acetylene lamp. It caused a slight fire, which was soon exlittle groups or brings out in relief some fond couple who temporarily forget where

C. W. Matheson and J. B. Hedges of Detroit, who are candidates for the team which will represent America in the international cup race, were two of the belated exhibitors who arrived yesterday.

Mr. Harkness said yesterday that his car being built for the cup race would not be a racing break, but that after the race he will put a tonneau on it and go touring in Europe. He, too, said he would enter the Paris-Madrid race whether or not he was selected for the cup team.

He, too, said he would enter the Paris-Manrid race whether or not he was selected for the cup team.

It may be said that yesterday saw the true opening of the show. The doors were opened at 10 o'clock in the morning and the tradesmen, who are admitted free in the forencon, began to arrive promptly. They are the ones who go in for a thorough overhauling of the machines and for a few hours about all the talk in the garden is in technical terms about brake, horse power, change speed clutches, transmission gears and other mechanical mysteries not yet comprehended by the general public.

The rule prohibiting any gasolene being present in the building is no great hardship to the exhibitors, for they nearly all have cars waiting outside in which tradesmen and prospective customers are given trips about the city. This show outside the Garden is almost as interesting as that within, and the competition between the makers has now reached a stage that makes them eager to furnish demonstrations. There is a trade taken must be paid for unless a sale is made, but it is safe to say that this is being honored during this week.

In respect to the running of cars in the

in operation almost as well as if it was being run by the explosive engine.

The restriction about gasolene does not prevent many working exhibits from being shown, and in these are found some of the most interesting features of the show. Most of these are electrical in kind or are electrically operated. One is shown by the only woman exhibitor at the show. It is a valveless steam engine that is operated by means of steam piped up from the engine room of the Garden. There are half a dozen exhibitions of sparking plugs. Several exhibitors have their cylinders cut in two, so as to show the piston stroke and also the spark just as it occurs inside of the explosion chamber. At two places four cylinders are shown with the spark occurring alternately in them. Another exhibit shows how the water is pumped and kept in circulation through the water jacket of a motor and through the radiating coil or cooler.

Still another exhibit shows how all the parts of the engine are lubricated automatically. There are several places where the operation of the gears in changing from high to low or medium speed is shown. In short, in one place or another of the show every part of an automobile is displayed sectionally, so that one who is willing to search and inquire and study may learn the true inwardness of the modern self-moving car.

The word chassis is one that puzzles many of the visitors, being one commonly used by the exhibitors, lt is a French word, pronounced chassy, that was originally applied to ordnance, but has slid gradually into automobile use. It means the under frame of a motor car, including the running gear and engine. A great many exhibitors show a chassis beside their completed vehicles and these are of great help to the uninitiated in the understanding of "what makes it go."

Dealers reported sales plentifully yesterday and there seemed to be almost as many high-priced cars as cheap ones being sold.

ROAD RULES HEARING. A New Set of Ordinances Sprung by Wil-

A hearing on the traffic ordinances and amendments called by Borough President Cantor was held before the Law Committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday afternoon. The Oatman ordinance and the amendments to it introduced by Alderman Oatman a week ago were completely sidetracked and the discussion turned on a new set of rules of the road drawn by William P. Eno of 111 Broadway and introduced to the board as a substi-tute bill by President Cantor. Even Alderman Oatman did not have any opposition to make to the new bill and yet in respect to the speed limit it differs materially from his amendment which permits of a speed of fifteen miles an hour in the sections of the city not built up and restricting it to eight miles an hour in the busy streets of the city. The Eno ordinance calls for a limit of ten miles

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Metropolitan Jockey Gub held on Saturday, Philip J. Dwyer was formally empowered to handle the affairs of the new racetrack near Jamaica. Mr. Dwyer will have the assistance of all of the officials of the Gravesend track, including Supt. James Dunphy, who will put the Jamaica course in fine shape for the spring meeting. Mr. Dwyer has already taken up the task of preparing the list of stake events for the coming season, and it is said will hang up a $5,000 stake as the attraction on the opening day. At Saturday's meeting the stockholders discussed at length the proposed value of the stakes at length the proposed value of the stakes and agreed that they would average as much in the long run as those at several other local tracks. From an authoritative source it was learned that the purses for overnight events would be in the neighborhood of $800 each and that the handicaps would call for $1,000 and $1,200 each. It was only after an earnest appeal that Mr. Dwyer consented to take hold of the Metropolitan track.

A visit to the Jamaica track yesterday disclosed the fact that it is now practically ready for region.

It is rumored that the Jockey Club will issue a license to Kenilworth track, Buffalo, which will be reopened under new management. It is said that M. S. Denslow of Buffalo will take hold of the track after its affairs have been settled up by the receiver, in whose hands it is at present.

The foaling season has opened auspiciously among the Blue Grass breeders. At Castletton Stud, the property of J. R. & F. P. Keene, two foals were dropped the other day. Both are fillies, one by Kingston—imp. Calico and the other by Commando—imp. Editha, a sister to Melton. Militon Young of McGrathiana Stud has sustained a serious loss in the death of the yearling chestnut filly by imp. Woolsthorpe—Early Morn, who was a half-sister to Endurance by Right and Rightful.

Lady Walter, who won the first two-year-old race of the year at New Orleans, is one of the lost that Joe Ullman bought here at the sales last fall. She carried Ullman's colors for the first time since the big bookmaker owned Raceland, who was sold by him to the late August Belmont some years ago.

Few of the owners now racing on the Coast have entered horses in this year's American Derby. It turns out that even Green B. Morris, in explanation, says:

"I did not make any entries at Washington Park and do not intend to make entries at any track in the Middle West, but will send my horses direct to New York. I have been represented by entries in the Derby and other Chicago stakes for several years, but generally made them because I was asked to do so to help advertise the tracks. I doubt if that was appreciated, for last fall when I raced in Chicago I found that the fees for a number of these entries which I had made hand Burns & Watterhouse have also declined to race at Chicago this year.

Contract to Turn Mud Into Fast Course in Twenty-four Hours-Crowd Hisses Placing of Horses After a Bumping Race-Rankin Wins the Handlesp.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19 .- The third race on the card to-day, a six-and-a-balf-furlong affair, created much talk. Our Jessie, a good thing n the race and heavily played, was the bone of contention. Belvino, the favorite, who finished second, bumped Lady Alberta all down the stretch and was disqualified. Our Jessie, who was fourth by six lengths, was placed third and then had her number taken down and Ben Frost, who finished fifth, was placed third. Our Jessie finished on the outside, clear of the field, and at no time did she interfere with any of the horses. The race was won by Bard of Avon. The start was a very poor one and Our Jessie was practically left at the post. When Our Jessie's number was placed post. When Our Jessie's number was placed third it was greeted with cheers, but when it was taken down the crowd hissed and jeered. Memphian, the favorite in the opening race, had no speed and finished in the ruck.

The race was won by Spec, the second choice. The second race was taken down by Russellton, the favorite, who made a show out of his field and won in a gallop. The seven-furlong handicap was only a pleasant stroll for Rankin, the favorite. He went to the front when ready and won with plenty to spare from Miss Shanley. Ma'mselle was the first one home in the fifth; she was the favorite and won in a gallop.
Williams was not permitted to ride El and won in a gallop.

Williams was not permitted to ride El Rey in the second race. The stewards were not satisfied with his rides on Alfred C. and Montanic. Pete Wimmer, who will train for Capt. S. S. Brown next season, was among the arrivals here to-day. He came down to gather some information as to why Jookey Helgerson was suspended.

An experiment is to be made on the Fair Grounds course to dry it out. A man here who asserts that he has a chemical preparaton that will dry the course out after a hard rain within twenty-four hours received a contract to begin work to-day. The poor track conditions are worrying the Crescent City Jockey Club officials and they intend to have a fast track by all means.

"Boots" Durnell boosted the winner of the last race to $1.500 and his owner bought him in by bidding an extra $5. The stewards suspended V. Hughes for false registration to-day.
